

The History
of Britain in Stone

'The story of our past is written not only in history books but in stone

But quite apart from their appeal to our historical sense, many of our monuments are great works of art, the legacy of wonderful craftsmen in successive ages'

THE RT. HON. LORD HARLECH, K.G., G.C.M.G., P.C., F.S.A.
Former First Commissioner of Works

There is a wealth of ancient monuments and buildings all over Britain. Long barrows of prehistoric peoples, Roman forts, castles of the Normans, pleasancess where the Tudors made merry and fortresses which have withstood the siege of tyrants . . . in these buildings the chequered history of Britain is enshrined. It is a fascinating story which richly repays study, and which adds the reward of pleasant memories.

THERE are upwards of 500 of these ancient monuments and buildings under the guardianship or ownership of the Ministry of Works. Usual admission is 6d. But a 12-month season ticket to admit two can be obtained for £1. It is a great saving and convenience for those travelling round Britain.

For your ticket, write to Ministry of Works, Lambeth Bridge House, London, S.E.1, or 122 George Street, Edinburgh, 2. Enclose £1 postal/money order, payable to Ministry of Works.

Photographs may be taken with a hand camera without permit, except at buildings occupied by the military, when special permission must be obtained.

Holders of the Tourists' Season Tickets issued by the Ministry of Works are exempt from the admission charges (normally 6d., children half price) at the Palaces, Historic Buildings and Ancient Monuments listed in this booklet.
